

Free to Men! A Book Full of Facts About

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt for Weak Men

I KNOW THAT NO MAN REMAINS A WEAKLING BECAUSE he wants to; I am sure that you want to overcome every indication of early decay that has shown itself on you. I don't think the man lives who would not like to feel as big and strong as a Sandow, and I know that if you have a reasonable foundation to build upon I can make you a bigger man than you ever hoped to be. I want you to know that, you who can't believe it, and I want you to have my book in which I describe how I learned that manly strength was only electricity and how I learned to restore it; also I want to tell you the names of some men who will tell you that when they came to me they were physical wrecks and are now among the finest specimens of physical manhood.

A HAPPY MAN

Dear Sir: Having used your famous electric belt for thirty days, I have received the greatest benefit that a man could gain—that is, health and strength. The tired, despondent feeling has gone. I feel the beginning of a new life, and am ever your debtor.
P. O. Box 482, Tucson, Arizona. W. E. CLARK.

I want you to read this book and learn the truth about my arguments. If you are not as vigorous as you would like to be, if you have rheumatic pains, weak kidneys, loss of vitality, prostatic troubles, nervous spells, varicose or any ailment of that kind that weakens you, it would assure you future happiness if you would look into this method of mine. Don't delay it, your best days are slipping by. If you want this book I send it closely sealed free, if you send this ad. Call for free consultation.

RUNNERS OF PAPA HOLUA AT BISHOP MUSEUM

Fine New Set Received From Colonel W. H. Cornwell Will Have Place of Honor Because of Beauty.

The Bishop Museum has received during the week two as fine specimens of the runners of the Papa Holua, as are to be found in any museum or private collection in the world, and Col. W. H. Cornwell, who was the donor, regrets that he was not able to secure the entire toboggan.

There is an interesting story told in connection with the runners, the sledge entire being found by a native of Maui, in one of the burial caves in the mountain side. He did not realize the value of the relic, and when he got it at once began to tear it apart for the purpose of using the wood for his fire. He had taken off the top of the sledge and had burned all of the cross-bars, the taongs having been lost. Col. Cornwell happened to hear of the discovery and at once went after the toboggan. He was only in time to save the runners and as they are such a fine pair he presented them to the museum.

The Papa Holua was the sledge on which the chiefs of the old time used to enjoy the sport of riding down hill. The sport was so dangerous that none but the chiefs were permitted to undertake it. For the purpose a strip of a steep hillside was cleared of stones for a width of some fifteen feet. The path thus made was strewn with grass, which flying rapidly, became as slippery as ice, and furnished an excellent riding surface.

The sledge was built with two runners, made of the hardest wood. In the case of the two just received here, the wood is kaula, and is very heavy. The runners are four inches deep and are two inches broad on the top and are trimmed down almost to an edge on the riding surface. They are straight on the edge with a slight curve up at the front. The top was fixed with cross-bars, tied in place with thongs, and on top of these was placed a mat.

When a chief wished to ride, he would take the sledge, hold it in front of him and running to the top of the slide would precipitate himself down the steep incline, lying prostrate on the top of the sledge. This in itself was no easy feat, for the runners were usually placed about two and a half inches from center to center, and the top was not more than six or eight inches wide. The sport was attended with danger for the speed became terrific.

The runners just received are very long being nearly thirteen feet from end to end, indicating that they were the property of a very tall man. They will be specially mounted for exhibition, though there are several other in the museum as well as the only complete sledge known to be in any museum in the world, for Professor Brigham esteems them as an exceptionally fine pair and will give them a place of honor.

The work of getting the new haul of the museum ready for display goes on apace. There is being made an excellent set of plaster casts of the fruits and fishes of the islands, all of full size and colored to the life. This will be one of the most complete exhibitions of the products and the natural history of the islands that could be got together.

A PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE COUNTY MEASURE

A gentleman who has had much to do with the making of laws submits the following as an amendment to Section 1, Chapter 1, of the proposed County Bill.

The territory of Hawaii is hereby divided into five counties as follows:

(a) All the Island of Oahu and all other Islands of the territory not included in the limits of any other county to be called the county of Oahu.

(b) The Islands of Maui, Molokai, Lanai and Kahoolawe, and all islands within three nautical miles of the shores thereof, excepting that portion set apart as a territorial reservation for the care of the lepers, known as the peninsula of Kalaupapa and Kalawao, to be called the county of Maui.

(c) All that portion of the Island of Hawaii known as the districts of North Kohala, South Kohala and Hamakua and all islands within three nautical miles of the shores thereof, to be called the county of Waimea.

(d) All that portion of the Island of Hawaii known as the districts of Hilo and Puna and all islands within three nautical miles of the shores thereof, to be called the county of Hilo.

(e) All that portion of the Island of Hawaii commonly known as the districts of North Kona, South Kona and Kau, to be called the county of Kona.

(f) All the Islands of Kauai and Niihau and all islands within three nautical miles of the shores thereof to be called the county of Kauai.

Each of said counties shall be a body corporate and politic and as such shall have powers specified in this act and such other powers as are necessarily implied.

which was cut hundreds of years ago perhaps, the marks of the stone axes being visible, is in place and the reproduction of the Papa helau, with the lava walls, and in which will be placed figures representing the priests and the sacrifice, is well along. There will be in the center of the room a most realistic representation of the crater of Kilauea, made after a long series of photographs and measurements from special surveys made by Prof. Brigham.

The display is being put into the best shape and will be in many respects the most perfect series of specimens in the world, in the various sections.

CHINESE LEGATION THANKS HAWAIIANS

The Chinese vice consul, Goo Kim Fui, has received the following letter from the Chinese legation which will be read with interest locally:

January 7th, 1903.
Goo Kim Fui, Esq., H. I. C. H.'s Vice Consul in Charge, Chinese Consulate, Honolulu, H. I.: In further reply to your communication dated Kwanghsu, 28th year, 10th moon, 18th day (November 19, 1902.), addressed to H. E. Wu, former Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of China at Washington, with which you inclosed a list of contributors to the fund for the relief of our fellow countrymen who were rendered destitute by the burning and destruction of their homes and property by order of the Board of Health in 1900, I have the honor, as an official representative of the Imperial government, to make proper acknowledgement of the generosity and charitable disposition manifested by all those who contributed to the fund.

It is my desire that you will give wide publicity to my expression of deep gratitude and sincere appreciation to them all, more especially to the American and other generous friends of the Chinese who contributed so liberally toward the relief fund. I am sure the whole Chinese community is in full accord with me in this public expression of thanks to their American and other friends in Hawaii.

I have the honor to be, sir, yours respectfully,
SHEN TUNG,
Charge d'Affaires ad Interim.

What Advertising Has Done.

The busiest place in town yesterday was Wall, Nichols Company's store. Their "Clearance Sale" is attracting lots of people and every one seems satisfied with the bargains they are getting. Cloth bound books at 15 cents, sheet music at 10 cents, Gibson art books at $3.75 instead of $5.00, and Applegate's Indelible Ink, "the kind that won't wash out," regular 25-cent bottles for 15 cents, are unusual prices for Honolulu, and the purchasing public are quick to respond to such offers. This sale will extend throughout the week, but some of the lines advertised are limited and early shopping is advised. Read the advertisement on our back page; it's well worth your while.

A clear case of it: "Say, pa, what's just retribution?" "It's something that happened to a man I read about the other day. He was tossing somebody else's baby up in the air, trying to find out whether he could hit the ceiling with it and not knock the plaster loose, and sprained his back so that he'll never be able to walk again."—Ex.
